MORELAND

Anything that involves as much work as historical research would require an explanation as to why this compilation of Moreland material was undertaken by Thelma Hansford. And rightly so, for to her knowledge, these are not her ancestors although she is related to several in the family due to intermarriages. Robert L. Hansford, her husband, is a lineal descendant of Robert Moreland, through his mother, Anna Cornelia Hogg Hansford. This relationship has thus stimulated interest in a hobby or pastime from which she derives pleasure, namely, historical or family research.

Learning about the patterns and the values in every day living; the accomplishments and interests in a particular past period; and the contributions made to various institutions tend to give a deeper appreciation of our forefathers. What we are today is an outgrowth of what they achieved and passed on to us----not in material wealth, but in ideals and social values.

Among the first Englishmen to settle in Virginia and in York County was Thomas Moreland . A patent for one hundred acres of land situated "upon Captain West's Creek and adjacent to William Sawyer for advancement of himself and Christopher Brown to Chiskiacke the first year" was issued to him August 10, 1642. A record in York County dated August 12, 1645 states " whereas by an order of the Counsell of Warr there are nineteen days work yet due from John Hansford, Elias Richardson, Thomas Moreland , William Reynolds-----the Court doth therefore order that said parties make payment of the said work----- according to one man's due share and parte." (York County Record Book No. 2, 1648, p. 361)

When the estate of John Hansford was being settled a court order bearing date September 1662 was issued for Thomas Moreland , William Barber, and William Townsend to make a fair division among the "four orphans" of their father's personal property. The report returned to the court October 20, 1662 gives the names of the Hansford children and the number of slaves and live stock each received. (York County Deeds, Orders, Wills 1657-1662 p. 357)

There is no will or inventory for Thomas Moreland or any record that specifically names his issue. However, William Moreland and Thomas Sharp had a difference settled in court November 25, 1672. (York Deeds, Orders, Wills No. 5, 1672-1676, p. 32) John Moreland bought a man servant from John Lolo December 16, 1675. (Ibid. p. 134) At a session of court held January 24, 1689/90 John Moreland was appointed surveyor of the highways for the lower precinct of Hampton Parish in the room and place of Mr. Charles Hansford and was to take care of the roads <sup>see that they</sup> and were cleared according to the law. (York Deeds, Orders, Wills No. 8, 1687-1691 p. 368)

In 1704 when the rent roll for the land owners in York County was made up John Moreland was credited with one hundred acres. The list is not alphabetized and judging by the names of others with which his name was placed, namely, William Lee, Richard Burt, John Hansford, Edward Fuller, Thomas Buck and many others, it would appear that his land was situated in the upper part of the county or what later became York-Hampton Parish. This one hundred acres seems to be the same tract that Thomas Moreland patented. This being true, John Moreland may be assumed son of <sup>I</sup>Thomas Moreland. (English Duplicates of Lost Virginia Records by Louis des Cognets Jr., Princeton, N.J. 1958) The York County records have not been searched to prove <sup>this</sup> because some of the earliest books have no index; it would be time consuming and the writing is very hard to read.

Probably Thomas Moreland had two sons: William Moreland and John Moreland. William Moreland does not appear otherwise in the records. He was born before 1651 for he was of age when he brought charges in the court in 1672.

John Moreland was born the middle part of the 17th century probably around 1654, for he was of age in 1675 when he bought a man servant. When he died in 1706 he was survived by eight children, some of these being of age. He married Ann <sup>daughter of William & Mary Bell</sup>. His children were listed in this order in his will:

1. Thomas Moreland
2. Francis Moreland
3. John Moreland
4. Edward Moreland
5. Matthew Moreland
6. Jane Moreland Faircloth
7. Mary Moreland
8. Elizabeth Moreland

William Bell's will (York Orders, Wills Etc no 14 [1709-1711] p. 134. It was written Sept. 25, 1704 but not until Aug 20, 1711 was it probated. He named his relict Mary who presented it to Court. upon oaths of William Lee and Ann Fuller. Bell of York-Hampton Parish; gives John Moreland Sr one shilling as having married my daughter Ann's give loving daughter Elizabeth Rank one shilling; give Margaret Cook as formerly marrying my son William Bell one shilling & grandson William Bell a mare.

(York Deeds, Orders, Wills No. 13
1706-1710, p. 6)

The will written May 21, 1706 was probated September 24, 1706 and gives these additional facts:

Wife Ann Moreland and son Francis Moreland <sup>were named</sup> the executors.

Son Matthew Moreland was left a mulatto girl named Kate.

Daughter Elizabeth Moreland was given a Negro boy named Roger. Elizabeth was not of age.

Daughter Ann Moreland had married -----Faircloth .

"Loving son, John Moreland, my whole tract of land where I now live containing one hundred acres with all appertenances-----there unto and to his male issue lawfully begotten-----in case he should die before he come of age and no male issue begotten of his body----my land return to my son Matthew Moreland and to his male heirs-----in case of his death----then to my son Edward Moreland-----

---wife Ann enjoy peacefully and quietly my whole tract as long as she remains widow-----if she marries-----get her thirds-----"

Although it was the custom for the oldest son to heir the land or major portion of it, this was not true in this case. John Moreland <sup>3</sup> was probably the third son. Francis Moreland <sup>3</sup> was named executor so he was of age. Also when he qualified as executor of this will the court record states that he was from James City County. Thomas <sup>3</sup> Moreland was the first child listed in the summation of John's children in the will. And while he was not otherwise named except to share equally in the rest of the estate, it may be safe to assume that he was the oldest child and had also established himself in a neighboring county. Hence the third son (who was underage) heired the land and home seat.

When Ann Moreland and Francis Moreland "of James City County, executors of John Moreland, deceased, late of York County" qualified to act, their bondsmen were Bazille Wagstaff and Robert Harris.

(York Deeds, Orders, Wills No. 13 pp 28-29)

<sup>3</sup>
1. Thomas Moreland does not readily appear in York County records. Case between Thomas Moreland pty vs John Ballard adm of Jane McKindle dismissed January 17, 1731 (Order 17 p. 256)
No research has been done relative to him.

<sup>3</sup>
2. Francis Moreland was born around 1680. He served as executor of his father's will. He settled in James City County. However, he was present in York County Court sessions in 1719 and 1720 when he was involved in the settlement of his brother's estate.

<sup>3</sup>
3. John Moreland was not twenty-one May 1706, but by May 1717 he had married, had three children, and died. He married Jane Young, daughter of John Young. This is learned from John Young's will probated February 19, 1719; she was named an executrix. self (York County Orders and Wills No. 15 p. 551)

<sup>3</sup>
Issue of John Moreland:

- <sup>4</sup>
(1) Young Moreland
<sup>4</sup>
(2) Ann Moreland
(3) Britton Moreland

There seems to have been some controversy when his estate was settled. At a court held May 20, 1717 Jane Moreland was present and "made oath that her husband, John Moreland, departed life without making a will." She was appointed administratrix of the estate and bond was posted by John Young and Richard Joby. (York Orders and Wills No. 15 pp. 109 and 112) At the February 15, 1719 session a petition was presented by Jane Moreland stating that Francis Moreland "surviving executor of the last will and testament of John Moreland, deceased refuseth to deliver unto the petitioner her share of the said estate. It is therefore ordered that -----be directed to the sheriff of James City County for summoning said Francis Moreland to answer-----next court." (The John Moreland mentioned here is John Moreland<sup>2</sup> and the question was over the one hundred acre tract of land. The widow of John Moreland<sup>2</sup> was given the right to live there during her lifetime or widowhood. John Moreland<sup>3</sup> evidently had never taken possession of this inheritance. Since he did leave male issue, this plantation was legally the heirs<sup>3</sup> of John Moreland. Apparently Ann Moreland, the mother, had died by that date.

Charles Hansford, William Lee, William Fuller, and Richard Burt were named to appraise the estate of John Moreland<sup>3</sup> May 16, 1720. (York Records No. I5 p. 584) Later there was a petition made by Francis Moreland contending that "Jane Moreland, administrator of the estate of John Moreland her late husband give further security for the estate, the other security being deceased." (Ibid. p. 588) Finally June 16, 1720 the inventory for John Moreland's estate was returned by Charles Hansford, William Fuller, and Richard Burt. This was signed by Francis Moreland. (Ibid. p. 641) The settlement of this estate was not completed until November 1728. The personal property was proportioned in this manner:

To wife's 1/3 part	I4--	I5--	7
To Young Moreland's part of 2/3	3--	5--	8
To Ann Moreland " " "	3--	5--	8
To Britton Moreland " " "	3--	5--	8

(I) Young Moreland, son of John and Jane Young Moreland, was born around 1712. A York record states that Young Moreland made choice of William Lee as his guardian and arranged to serve Lee five years during which time he would be taught the trade of a carpenter and also learn to read. This agreement was made February 20, 1726. (York Orders and Wills 1720-1729 p. 432)

His first marriage was to Elizabeth Wright, daughter of John J. Wright before 1751 as shown by Wright's will which states in part---
 " my daughter, Elizabeth Moreland, wife of Young Moreland." This was written November 14, 1751 and was probated November 20, 1752. (York Wills and Inventories 1746-1759 p. 273)

He married secondly, Mary -----and they had two daughters.
 4
 The names of the children of Young Moreland are learned from his and his last wife's wills, namely:

- 5
 A. Mary Moreland
 5
 B. Elizabeth Moreland
 5
 C. (daughter) Moreland

Given are parts of the wills:

Young Moreland's written February 21, 1774; probated March 21, 1774-----

I lend to my daughter Mary Moreland my plantation-----and if she marry and have children I give it to them.
 My daughter Elizabeth Thomas' children-----
 ----my granddaughters Betty, Nancy, and Sally Skinner----- grand-daughters Betty Coke and Nancy Skinner my plantation lying one part in Warwick and other in Elizabeth City County which I purchased of W. Cross-----equally divided between them.
 ----grand-daughter Elizabeth Coke-----a Negro
 ----grand-daughter Nancy Skinner --- a Negro
 ----grand-daughter Sally Skinner --- a Negro
 ----daughter Elizabeth Thomas----slaves and part in the plantation
 ----my daughter Mary Moreland whole and sole executor---

Henry Lee (York Wills and Inventories No. 22 p. 214)

Mary Moreland's will written August 10, 1774; probated September 19, 1774:

-----to Sally Skinner one bouffet and all in it; a desk, bed and furniture-----seal skin trunk
 I give to Henry Lee one horse colt, six leather chairs, one couch
 I give to George and John Thomas after my debts are paid my money in my father's will ----rest equally divided between Elizabeth Thomas, Betty Coke, Sally Skinner
 ----friend Samuel Thomas take care of what I have given Sally

Skinner. (York Wills and Inventories No. 22 p. 214)

So, both Young and Mary Moreland died within the same year--

A. Mary Moreland was the daughter of Young Moreland by his first wife. She was of age in 1774 so was born before 1753. She was named executrix in her father's will; however, record shows that Samuel Thomas assisted with this settlement. Among the bills paid by Mary was the cost of getting a copy of John Moreland's will in January 1775. (York Wills and Inventories No. 23 p. 143) This will is indicative of the lengthy controversy about the one hundred acre tract that was first granted to Thomas Moreland in 1642.

<sup>5</sup>
B. Elizabeth Moreland, daughter of Young Moreland by his second wife, married -----Thomas. It might have been Samuel Thomas since he helped with the settlement of her father's estate. He was mentioned in her mother's will too; these two persons were left legacies:

<sup>6</sup>

<sup>6</sup>
(B) John Thomas

<sup>5</sup>
C. (daughter) Moreland, child of Young Moreland and his second wife, married -----Skinner, but died before 1774. Both of her parents left legacies to her children:

<sup>6</sup>
(A) Elizabeth (Betty) Skinner

<sup>6</sup>
(B) Nancy Skinner

<sup>6</sup>
(C) Sally Skinner

<sup>6</sup>
(A) Elizabeth (Betty) Skinner married Robert Coke of Williamsburg and they sold a 35 acre tract which "descended to Betty who was a grand-daughter of Young Moreland, deceased " April 6, 1780. This was bounded by Matthew Moody, Nathaniel Moreland, Elizabeth Fuller, and James Thomas and was located in York-Hampton Parish. (York Deed Book No. 6, I777-I79I p. 104)

Young Moreland had no sons to carry on the Moreland name through his line.

4. Edward Moreland, son of John and Ann Moreland, was born before 1698 for he was named guardian for a younger brother, Matthew Moreland in 1719. (York Orders and Wills No. 15, 1716-1720 p. 548)

5. Matthew Moreland was born between 1699 and 1705. In the session of York Court held February 15, 1719 two items of business were attended to:

On the petition of Matthew Moreland praying that Edward Moreland may be appointed his guardian, he therefore, Edward, having together with Philip Dedman and Joseph Mountfort his security ----acknowledged----bond---ordered that he take care of said Matthew and his estate. (York W.& O. No. 15 , 544)

----- condition of this obligation is such that if the above bounden Edward Moreland shall----cause to be paid unto Matthew Moreland, orphan of John Moreland, deceased, all such estate or estates belonging to said orphan . (Ibid. p. 548)

Matthew Moreland married Ann Wright, daughter of John J. Wright and they had issue:

4

(1) Ann Moreland

4

(2) John Moreland

4

(3) Matthew Moreland

4

(4) Edward Moreland

(5) Wright Moreland

Ann Wright Moreland died before her husband; she was not mentioned in his will. When her father, John J. Wright, wrote his in 1751 he left a legacy "to the heirs of my daughter, Ann Moreland". (York Wills and Inventories 1746-1759 p. 273)

Edward<sup>3</sup> Morland probably married Jane Fuller, daughter of Edward Fuller whose will was written Feb. 25, 1708/9 and probated Sept. 24, 1709 (Deeds, Orders, Wills, etc. No. 13 - [706.1710] p. 255 York Co.) Fuller left his daughter Jane Morland a cow calf. Witnesses to the will were: Robert Patten (Peters); Thomas Faircloth and Edward Morland.

4. Edward Morland, son of John and Ann Morland, was born before 1698 for he was named guardian for a younger brother, Matthew

Morland in 1719. (York Orders and Wills No. 15, 1716-1720 p. 548)

5. Matthew Morland was born between 1699 and 1705. In the session of York Court held February 15, 1719 two items of business were attended to:

On the petition of Matthew Morland praying that Edward Moreland may be appointed his guardian, he therefore, Edward, having together with Philip Dehman and Joseph Mountfort his security acknowledged and ordered that he take care of said

Matthew and his estate. (York W. & O. No. 15, 544) condition of this obligation is such that if the above bounden Edward Morland shall cause to be paid unto Matthew

Morland, orphan of John Morland, deceased, all such estate or estates belonging to said orphan. (Ibid. p. 548)

Matthew Morland married Ann Wright, daughter of John J. Wright and they had issue:

(1) Ann Morland

(2) John Morland

(3) Matthew Morland

(4) Edward Morland

(5) Wright Morland

Ann Wright Morland died before her husband; she was not mentioned in his will. When her father, John J. Wright, wrote his in 1751 he left a legacy "to the heirs of my daughter, Ann Morland".

(York Wills and Inventories 1746-1759 p. 273)

When John Moreland died (I706)<sup>2</sup> he willed to his son Matthew a Negro girl named Kate<sup>3</sup>; when Matthew wrote his will (I734) he gave to his daughter, Ann Moreland "my Negro woman named Kate." Excerpts from his will continue:

-----give to son John Moreland a Negro boy -----Jamey
 -----give to son Matthew Moreland a Negro girl----Mary
 ---- give to son Edward Moreland a Negro girl----Jenny
 -----give to son Wright Moreland a Negro girl----America rest of estate be sold---debts paid---equally divided among my children-----; Young Moreland---sole executor---

This was written February 8, I734 and proved February 2I, I736. Richard Bellame and Sophia Clark were witnesses. (York Wills and Inventories I732-I740 p. I75)

Concerning his activities, the record shows that Ann Williams "made choice of Matthew Moreland to be her guardian" July I6, I733; in November I733 he gave security to act in this capacity. (York Records No. I8, I732-I740 pp. 62 and 74)

<sup>3</sup>
 Matthew Moreland died in I735.

The Court on July 2I, I735 instructed the church-wardens of York-Hampton Parish to bind out Matthew Moreland, son of Matthew Moreland, deceased, to John Core (?). (York Records No. I8 p. 2I2) This was the way for a person to learn a trade.

The Court told the sheriff on December I5, I735 to take into custody the Negroes belonging to "the estate of Matthew Moreland which are now in the possession of John Wright and ~~that he~~ bind them out to the best advantage." (Ibid. p. 244) (It has already been noted that John Wright was father-in-law of Matthew Moreland.)

Court meeting January I7, I736 called for the witnesses to the last will and testament of Matthew Moreland to be summoned to the next court to prove the same. February 2I, I736 this will was finally probated although he had died several months prior. (Ibid. pp. 336 & 348)

(1) Ann Moreland

(2) John Moreland

After his father's death in 1735, the Court bound him out to Benjamin Moss----"that he learn the said orphan to read and write and it further orders that the Negro boy belonging to the said orphan be delivered to the said Benjamin Moss." (York Records No. 18 p. 409)

What became of him? Does Robert link here?

(3) Matthew Moreland

Following his father's death in 1735, he too, was bound out to learn a trade.

He married Ruth _____ and at the time of his death they lived in Charles Parish. According to his will his children were:

- 5
A. Elizabeth Moreland
5
B. John Moreland
5
C. Mary Moreland
5
D. Anne Moreland

Parts of his will are given:

----wife Ruth sell my Negro man to enable her to pay the debts
----give her all my estate movable during her widowhood----- if she marry-----my estate be laid out in three parts----- one I lend to her during her natural life----. My four children Elizabeth, John, Mary, and one my wife is now with ----- Edward Wright be executor with wife Ruth----
Written January 17, 1755; probated February 17, 1755
(York Wills and Inventories 1746-1759 p. 344)

The inventory was returned March 17, 1755 (Ibid. p. 345) and was made by Edward Wright, John Tenham, and William Powell. The final settlement came before the Court (probably following Ruth Moreland's death) November 18, 1771. The commissioners returned a report of the division of property in this manner:

Six slaves, namely: Sarah, Agnes, Frank, James, Amey, and Bob each given a value.

Division of slaves to John Moreland, his share 90--13--8
Division of slaves to Mary Moreland, her share 90--13--8

Division of slaves to Anne Moreland, her share 90--I3--8
 Moll an old woman of little value was undivided and the parties agreed to share any profits that might come from her labor.
 (York Wills and Inventories No. 22, I77I-I783 p. 54)

In charge of this division were Edmund Curtis, John Chisman, William Moss Jr., and John Toomer and this transaction was completed
 January 20, I772.

<sup>5</sup>
 A. Elizabeth Moreland, daughter of Matthew and Ruth Moreland, did not heir a portion of the slave property of her father, so may be assumed dead by I77I.

<sup>5</sup>
 B. John Moreland, son of Matthew and Ruth Moreland, was born around I750. He married Frances (Fanny) Stroud December 8, I772. The marriage bond was signed by Joseph Stroud. (York Marriage Bond) This couple had three sons:

<sup>6</sup>
 (A) Matthew Moreland

<sup>6</sup>
 (B) Richard Moreland

<sup>6</sup>
 (C) William Moreland

An order dated April I7, I780 was issued in York Court for the appraisal of the estate of John Moreland. On June I9, I780 a report placing a value of 4293 pounds five shillings on the estate was returned. Among his possessions were carpenter tools and three very valuable Negro slaves: Sarah worth 2500 pounds; Lucy worth I000 pounds; Molly worth 500 pounds. (Note evidences of inflation here, a thing which often occurs during wars.) William A. Rogers, Allen Chapman, and John Burcher were the appraisers. (York Wills and Inventories
No. 22, I77I-I783 p. 492)

The sheriff received instructions May I7, I784 "to take into his hands and sell according to law the estate of John Moreland, deceased and return an account of the sales to the Court. Thomas Smith, William Aduston Rogers, John Moss, and William Moss or any three of these were appointed to examine and settle Joseph Stroud's administration of the estate of John Moreland, deceased and make a report to the Court. (York Orders No. 4, I774-I784 pp. 5I4-5I5)

Evidently Joseph Stroud died before he accomplished this because business relative to the Stroud estate and the Moreland estate are involved in the same report to the Court. In fact, a balance due the Stroud estate of 395 pounds eleven shillings and one penny was deducted from the Moreland estate. Thomas Smith, William A. Rogers, and William Moss (named before) attended to this. (York Wills and Inventories No. 23, p. 53)

The inventory, completed August I6, I784, showed that a sale of John Moreland's property had been held. Frances Moreland bought in these items:

- A lot of pewter
- A pine table
- Bedstead
- Spinning wheel
- Large tub
- Frying pan
- Meat tub
- Tub and pail
- Narrow ax
- Fire tongs
- Hoe

Other people made numerous purchases.
(York W.& I. No. 23 p. 52)

5

John Moreland was evidently a carpenter by trade; no land was involved in the settlement. He died early in I780.

(A) Matthew Moreland was born around I773. There is a record concerning "Matthew Moreland, orphan of John Moreland deceased" in which the Court was showing concern for his welfare and employment, the date being January I9, I789. (York Orders No. 6, I788-I795 p. 93) Later in the year, September 2I, I789, Matthew Moreland, Richard Moreland, James Cooke, Wilson Mundel, and James Wise, orphans were bound out in the lower precinct of the County. (In the period of the American Revolution and immediately following, there was no social benefits comparable to social security and welfare as we know it. Instead, people worked for others, or were "bound out" and in this way learned a trade, got some education, and received a livelihood.)

(B) Richard Moreland born around 1775

(C) William Moreland born March 18, 1777 was baptized April 27, 1777. (Charles Parish Register) This baptism was done in Northampton County although recorded in the York County Church Register. There was a relationship between the Strouds and the East family in Northampton County. Frances Stroud Moreland was probably in that area when this son was born and baptized.

What became of these three Moreland boys after their father's death is not known. They do not readily appear among York County records although other people by Moreland name have remained in the county to the present day. A good guess would be that the mother, Frances Stroud Moreland, and her children moved to Eastern Shore of Virginia.

<sup>5 4</sup> <sup>4</sup>
(G) Mary Moreland, daughter of Matthew Moreland and Ruth

of York Hampton Parish was written January 22, 1802 and probated November 20, 1804. He left the plantation on York River where the family lived, to his wife and legacies to seven children: Elizabeth Patrick, Richard, Mary, William, John, Edmund, and Robert Garrett. However, his wife's name was not given so one does not know if the children were by Mary Moreland Garrett or perhaps another wife. The Charles Parish Register has recorded these names and dates:

<sup>6</sup>
(A.) Nancy Garrett, daughter of Richard and Mary, born August 8, 1780 is not listed in the will. (from Charles Parish Register)

(B) <sup>6</sup>William Garrett, son of Richard and Mary, was born March 8, 1783.

(Richard Garrett Jr. donated the land on which the Baptists built their public worship house, the deed being dated June 16, 1806. (York Deed Book 7, p. 494) His will was written December 5, 1854 and was probated February 19, 1855. He was survived by a wife and six children. (York Will Book 13 p. 281)

D. <sup>5</sup>Anne Moreland, <sup>4</sup>daughter of Matthew Moreland and Ruth Moreland, was born 1755, after her father wrote his will. She was indirectly mentioned in the will and received a portion of his slave property when the settlement was made.

Concerning the daughters of John <sup>2</sup>Moreland, no research has been undertaken. <sup>3</sup>Jane Moreland had married Thomas Faircloth before her father wrote his will May 1706 and was called Jane Faircloth in it. <sup>3</sup>Elizabeth Moreland was left a Negro boy named Roger; she was not of age in 1706. <sup>3</sup>Mary Moreland was merely mentioned as sharing in her father's will.

There are several other people by Moreland name who lived in the early period in York County for whom little or no information can hereby be given:

Nathaniel Moreland was mentioned in the settlement of Young Moreland's estate thus:

July 14, 1778 paid to Nathaniel Moreland 3 pounds 15 shillings
October 8, 1778 Rec'd from James Dudley 7 shillings 9 pen.

(A) Richard Gervett, son of John and Mary, was born 1780

R. 1785.

(Richard Gervett Jr. donated the land on which the Baptist built their public worship house, the deed being dated June 10, 1805.
(York Deed Book V, p. 494) His will was written December 5, 1854 and was probated February 10, 1855. He was survived by a wife and six children. (York Will Book 13 p. 281)

D. Anne Morland, daughter of Richard Morland and Sarah Morland, was born 1785, after her father wrote his will. She was indirectly mentioned in the will and received a portion of his estate property when the settlement was made.

(A) Edward Morland

Thomas Faircloth along with Edward Morland (who had married Jane Fuller) were witnesses to the will of Edward Fuller. Feb 25, 1708/9; proved Sept 24, 1709
(Yrk. Deeds, Olds, Wills no 13 - 1706-1710; p. 255)

Jane Morland had married Thomas Faircloth before her father wrote his will May 1706 and was called Jane Faircloth in it. Margaret Morland was left a Negro boy named Roger; she was not of age in 1706. Mary Morland was merely mentioned as standing in her father's will.

There are several other people by Morland name who lived in the early period in York County for whom little or no information can be by given:

Nathaniel Morland was mentioned in the settlement of Young and a estate time:

July 20, 1775 paid to Nathaniel Morland 5 pounds 15 shillings
October 11, 1775 Rec'd from James Dugby 7 shillings 9 pence.

Nathaniel Moreland left a will dated 1784 and proved July 20, 1789. He was married but left no male heirs. Given is the will abstracted:

I give to my loving wife my whole estate during her life and at her death to Matthew Hubbard the younger my land and one half the rest of my estate-----. The other half I desire may be equally divided between Elizabeth and Liddia Maney----in case the two girls die and leave no issue of their body I desire that Matthew Hubbard the younger may have their parts except the land. I desire all---may be sold to the best advantage----

Francis Lee----sole executor

Witnesses: Robert Roberts

Matthew Hubbard Jr.

Mary Hubbard

The amount of land he had was not stated, but the 35 acre tract sold by Robert and Betty Coke was bounded by Matthew Moody, Nathaniel Moreland, Elizabeth Fuller, and James Thomas.

Ishmael Moreland (?) was born before 1758. He made oath with Benjamin Lester Jr. that Elizabeth Davis died before her father; this happened November 2, 1779. (York Wills and Inventories No. 22, p. 3)

Robert Moreland (?) died around December 21, 1789. James Vaughan, Benjamin Hansford, William Ellis, and John Moody were named to appraise his property and slaves. (York Orders No. 6, 1788-1795, p. 195) This could not have been the Robert who married Dianna Tabb for a mortgage which he and his wife had effected was proven in the Court the same day. The last named Robert also attended Court May 23, 1792, March 3, 1793, and November 19, 1793. So there were two Robert Morelands living in York County the last part of the 18th century and the parentage or relationship to the other Morelands there is unknown by this writer.

Robert Moreland - parentage extension - ancestor of Robert Lee Hansford.

by Thelma Hansford
Seaford, Va. 1983

The Moreland family was well established in York County and the surrounding areas by the time of the Revolutionary War. Thomas Moreland appears as early as 1640 on York County records and his lineal descendants may be traced for 150 years. There is, however, meager information about several male members in the line. Francis Moreland settled in James City County and appears on the York records several times. Because James City records are lost his lineage cannot be traced. It is highly probable that Robert Moreland, the progenitor of the present York County Morelands descended from him for these Morelands were closely associated with the Charles and other families who were likewise in upper York and James City Counties.

In 1789 there were two Robert Morelands living in York County. The Court held December 21, 1789 ordered James Vaughan, Benjamin Hansford, William Ellis, and John Moody to appraise the property and slaves of Robert Moreland, deceased. (Orders No. 6, 1788-1795, p. 195) At the same session of Court a deed in trust between Robert Moreland and his wife Dianer (sic) Moreland one part and William Vale of the other part was presented. (Ibid. p. 196) He was present at court May 23, 1792 and made a motion as a witness for Kemp Charles in the case against Hawkins Reade. (Ibid. p. 459). On March 3, 1793 he was a witness for Henry Charles, administrator of John Chisman, deceased. (Ibid. p. 531) Again on November 19, 1793 he was at York County Court. (Ibid. p. 594) These two Roberts could very easily have been father and son but with lack of proof.

Robert Moreland and Dianna Tabb were married before 1773 because they had a daughter old enough to witness a will December 1794. (York Wills and Inventories No. 23, p. 447) Assuming he was twenty-one years of age when he married, he was probably born around 1750-1753.

They lived in Yorktown or nearby for he had half an acre lot in the town which he bought from Thomas Lilly and his wife Lucy Lilly and which formerly had been owned by Edmund Glanville. It "adjoined lots of the late honorable Philip Lightfoot, deceased." (York Deed Book No. 6, p. 255) It was this house and lot and a Negro named Peg on which he gave a deed in trust to William Vale, dated June 24, 1789. This was signed by both Robert and Diana Moreland. (Ibid.p. 424)

Diana Tabb Moreland was the daughter of John Tabb of Gloucester County and Diana Moss Tabb formerly of York County. There is a record in York County dated 1754 showing this marriage:

William Tabb and John Tabb, both of Gloucester County are firmly bound unto John Sheild of the County of York in the sum of 200£ in consideration of the marriage of the above bound John Tabb, son of the above bound William Tabb, and Diana Moss. The condition of the above obligation is that if the said John Tabb die before said Diana leaving no issue by her that no other child of said William Tabb as heir of their brother John, s shall lay any claim to the slaves that came (to John Tabb) by said Diana but they shall suffer her to enjoy them.

(York County Deeds 1754-63 p. 22; also Records of Colonial Gloucester County v.2 by Polly Cary Mason p. 122)

Diana Moss Tabb was born December 22, 1735. (Charles Parish Register, York Co.) She was the daughter of Edward and Elinor Moss, as shown by this church record. Her father died in 1737 when his wife got letters of administration to settle his estate, January 21, 1737. At the July 16, 1737 session of York Court, it was reported that "Elinor Moss, relict of Edward Moss" died without a will. So, both of Diana Moss' parents died within the same year and she was an only child.

She married John Tabb of Gloucester in 1754 and they resided there. The York County Court session of February 20, 1778 shows that they were present relative to a tract of land in Yorkhampton Parish, a part of the 200 acre tract formerly possessed by John Moss, deceased. Witnesses were Bailey Seaton Tabb (who had married Ann Moss), Edward Tabb and John Peyton. (John Moss was a brother to Diana Moss Tabb's grandfather.) They were selling this to William Tabb of Berkley County, who was really a Gloucester native, being reared from childhood by an uncle in Berkley County and he moved to York County as an adult. This tract was in the present "Wolf Trap" area of the county.

Charles Parish Register in York County has the birth of Mary Tabb, daughter of John and Diana Tabb, born August 9, 1755. So, this seems to have been their first child (having been married in 1754). While residing in Gloucester, she probably was in York with relatives for the birth of her first child.

Diana Tabb (later Diana Tabb Moreland) was born about 1757. and she was sister to Mary Tabb who married Cheaman and Charles.
 The 1784 tax list for York County credits Robert Moreland with 172 acres "about a mile south of Yorktown" which had been a part of the Thomas Pescud estate. This at one time had also been Moss land. Thomas Pescud Sr. had married secondly, Elizabeth Moss of York County and his son Thomas Pescud Jr. who lived in Warwick County, had heired this Moss-Pescud land. Thus it was sold and remained to some extent in the Moss family. Diana Moreland was lent one hundred acres during her lifetime by a son-in-law <sup>who was also a nephew</sup> whose will was probated in 1807. <sup>see p. 33 this manuscript.</sup> (York Wills and Inventories No. 23, p. 716) She paid taxes on this during her lifetime. This, ~~too~~, was about a mile south of Yorktown, and was originally Moss land. These land transactions are used to prove Diana Tabb Moreland's parentage + grand parentage.
 Robert Moreland was a bricklayer. On the deed for the lot

12
Another way of stating proof of Diana Sall Moreland's parentage is:

1. John Sall & Diana Moss were married 1754, (York Co records 1754 1763 p. 22.)
2. Mary Sall, dau of John & Diana Sall, was born Aug 5, 1755
3. Diana Sall Moreland & Mary Sall were sisters.
4. Mary Sall married <sup>1st</sup> John Chismon and <sup>2ndly</sup> Lewis Charles and she had a son Edmund Sall Chismon.
5. Edmund Sall Chismon died 1804 leaving a will in which a legacy was made to his Aunt Moreland. (W & F m 23p 1714)
6. This "Aunt Moreland" was Diana Sall Moreland & she paid taxes on it during her lifetime after which it was possessed by her sons according to E. T. Chismon's will.

Conclusion: Diana Sall Moreland was a daughter of John Sall of Gloucester and Diana Moss Sall formerly of York County.

Tapp, daughter of John and Diana Tapp, born August 9, 1755.
This seems to have been their first child (having been married in 1754). While residing in Gloucester, she probably was in York with relatives for the birth of her first child.
Diana Tapp (later Diana Tapp Moreland) was born about 1757. The 1784 tax list for York County credits Robert Moreland with 172 acres "about a mile south of Yorktown" which had been a part of the Thomas Pessoud estate. This at one time had also been Moss land. Thomas Pessoud Sr. had married secondly, Elizabeth Moss of York County and his son Thomas Pessoud Jr. who lived in Warwick County, had inherited this Moss-Pessoud land. Thus it was sold and remained to some extent in the Moss family. Diana Moreland was lent one hundred acres during her lifetime by a son-in-law whose will was probated in 1807. (York Wills and Inventories No. 25, p. 716) She paid taxes on this during her lifetime. This, too, was about a mile south of Yorktown and was originally Moss land. On the deed for the lot Robert Moreland was a broker. On the deed for the lot in Yorktown his occupation is stated. On November 16, 1784 he accepted Robert Noblin-- a boy under twenty-one-- to teach him the trade of bricklaying. (Deed Bk. No. 6, p. 249) Thomas Drake "infant orphan of William Drake" served an apprenticeship under him with the agreement being made December 15, 1788. (York Orders No. 6, p. 86) Prior to this (April 21, 1783) the County Treasurer was ordered to pay him for repairing the courthouse when funds became available. (York Orders No. 4, p. 321) (This qualifies him for being a patriot during period following the Revolution and prior to the treaty of 1783.)

He was a witness for Kemp Charles in a case against Hawkins Reade. (York Orders No. 6, 1788-1795, p. 459) On March 3, 1793 he served as a witness for Henry Charles, administrator for John Chisman, deceased. (Note: his wife's sister <sup>mary Tabb</sup> married first, _____ Chisman and secondly, Lewis Charles.)

<sup>1</sup> Robert Moreland and Diana Tabb Moreland had at least six children:

- <sup>2</sup> 1. Elizabeth Tabb Moreland born by 1773
- <sup>2</sup> 2. John C. Moreland born 1783-84 (1850 Census)
- <sup>2</sup> 3. Edward Moreland born around 1786 (he <sup>possessed</sup> ~~heired~~ land 1807)
- <sup>2</sup> 4. Martha Moreland born by 1787 (she chose her guardian 1801)
- <sup>2</sup> 5. Robert Bray Moreland born 1794
- <sup>2</sup> 6. Lewis Moreland born 1800-01 (father died 1801)

Some of these are named as Robert's in the Orphans Accounts; all are named in Diana's will. Note the ten year span between the older children; it appears that there may have been children who died as infants or young.

the securing of said orphan's estate. (York Orders 1795-1803, p. 463)

Diana Tabb Moreland died 1822. Her will was dated May 11, 1822 and was probated October 21, 1822. (York Will Book No. 10, 1811-1824, p. 419) Here is a part of the will:

I lend to my daughter Elizabeth T. Powell my Negro woman Suckey, a girl Sall and girl Betty with their increase. I also lend my said daughter Elizabeth T. Powell one bed and furniture which I have here-to-fore loaned her and in her possession and one cow and yearling hereafter to be delivered during her natural life for the maintenance of herself and children and at her death I give the afore-said Negroes with their increase to be equally divided between her children.

2ndly-- I lend to my son John C. Moreland my Negro woman Peg, girl Hannah and boy Ananias during his natural life for the maintenance of himself and his children and at his death I give them to be equally divided between his children.

3rdly--I lend to my son Edward Moreland my Negro woman Lucy and her child Priscilla with their increase his natural life for maintenance of himself and children and at his death I give them to be equally divided between his children.

4thly--I lend to my son Robert Moreland a Negro girl called Chloe and a boy called Giles with their increase during his natural life for the maintenance of himself and his children and at his death I give them to be equally divided between his children.

5thly-- I lend to my son Lewis Moreland a Negro woman by name Mildred, a girl called Judith and a boy Joseph with their increase. I also lend my said son Lewis two beds and furniture, the balance of my stock during his natural life for the maintenance of himself and children and at his death be equally divided between his children.

6thly--I give to my grand-daughter Diana Curtis a Negro girl called Mary Jane with her increase but provided the said Diana should die before she arrives at the age of twenty-one years or marries I devise that the said Negro with her increase be equally divided between my grand-daughters Martha and Nancy Curtis or go to the survivor.

7thly-- I give to my grand-daughter Martha Curtis a Negro girl called Mildred with her increase but if said Martha should die-----

8thly-- I give to my grand-daughter Nancy Curtis a Negro girl called Nancy with her increase and if said Nancy should die before she arrives at the age -----

9thly--and lastly-- I lend to my son Lewis all the residue of my personal property of every sort not herein devided in addition to that mentioned in the fifth section of the will enjoining him that the woman Mildred that I have lent him be allowed and compelled to weave family cloth for my daughter Elizabeth T. Powell during her lifetime if the Negro lives as long. I have also appointed my sons John C. and Edward Moreland executors-----

Witness: Henry Howard Jr.

Part II.

1. <sup>2</sup>Elizabeth Tabb Moreland, daughter of <sup>1</sup>Robert Moreland and his wife Diana Tabb Moreland, was born in or before 1773 for she had to be of age to witness the will of Thomas Bennett, written December 15, 1794. She was not married at the time. When her mother wrote her will May 1822 she was named as Elizabeth T. Powell.

She married William C. Powell, son of Thomas Powell. (York Deed Book 11, p. 469) She died late in 1831 for on the motion of Robert Moreland with John C. Moreland and Lewis Moreland securities permission was granted to settle her estate. (York Co, Orders Bk, 12 1829-356 p. 146) A lawsuit was then instituted by Kemp P. Elliott versus William Powell, Edmund Powell, Thomas Powell, and Robert Powell, the last two "infants under age 21." The slaves of Elizabeth Powell were ordered to be sold and <sup>divided</sup> divided. The result was that the committee gave to the plaintiff and each of the defendants 1/5 each of this estate. The slaves were divided thus:

Lucy	to William T. Powell-----	valued $115.00
Sally	to Kemp P. Elliott -----	" 170.00
Frances	to do. -----	" 141.00
Frank	to Edmund C. Powell ----	" 78.25
		$504.25

Jack mentioned in the bill is dead February 20, 1832
(York Co. Orders No. 12, p. 160) dated March 19, 1832.

<sup>2</sup>
Elizabeth Tabb Moreland Powell had five children:

- <sup>3</sup>
(1) William Tabb Powell
- (2) A daughter who married Kemp P. Elliott
- <sup>3</sup>
(3) Edmund C. Powell
- <sup>3</sup>
(4) Thomas Powell underage in 1832
- <sup>3</sup>
(5) Robert Powell b. 1814 (signed deed 1835; D.B.12, p. 99)

Here are excerpts from York County deeds which tell something of interest about the Powells:

February 18, 1834--William T. Powell--for $300-- where Powell now resides and part of the land derived by him from his grandfather Thomas Powell, bounded South by land called Andersons; west by main stage road; north by land of John C. Moreland; and east by land of Allen Chapman called "Toomers"----being a portion of the land given by his said grandfather Thomas Powell to his father William C. Powell, eldest son which is as will appear by reference to his said grandfather's will---- signed by Allen Chapman, Edward Wright, Nathaniel Fletcher. Recorded 19 May 1834.

It might be interesting to identify this tract by present markings. "Toomers" is now a part of the York County Sanitation <sup>Land</sup> Fill (~~"dump"~~) at its entrance from York-hampton Road. John C. Moreland tract passed from him to his son and grandson and the main entrance of the land is on Hornsbyville Road, although at one time there was (in my lifetime) an entrance or land on the York-hampton Road, which incidently, was the "main stage road" mentioned in the deed. The Chapman tract was later possessed by the Gray family who sold to York County the property for the County <sup>Land fill</sup> ~~Dump~~. →

(5) Robert Powell b. 1814 (signed deed 1835; D.B. 12, p. 99)

Here are excerpts from York County deeds which tell something of interest about the Powells:

February 18, 1834--William T. Powell--for $300-- where Powell now resides and part of the land derived by him from his grandfather Thomas Powell, bounded South by land called Andersons; west by Main state road; north by land of John C. Moreland; and east by land of Allen Chapliam C. Powell, eldest son which is as will appear by reference to his said grandfather's will--- signed by Allen Chapman, Edward Wright, Nathaniel Fletcher. Recorded 19 May 1834.

It might be interesting to identify this tract by present markings. "Toomers" is now a part of the York County Sanitation Hill (at its entrance from York-Hampton Road. John C. Moreland tract passed from him to his son and grandson and the main entrance of the land is on Hornsbyville Road, although at one time there was (in my lifetime) an entrance or land on the York-Hampton Road, which incidentally, was the "main state road" mentioned in the deed. The Chapman tract was later possessed by the Gray family who sold to York County the property for the County Dump.

2. John C. Moreland, son of Robert Moreland and Diana Tapp
Moreland, was born 1783-84 according to the 1850 and also the 1860
Census for York County, Virginia. He married first Rebecca S. Charles daughter of Henry and Frances Charles after May 18, 1812. This is learned from two legal documents among York County records. First, Henry Charles wrote his will May 18, 1812 and he named his children among them being daughters Martha T.; Frances L.; and Rebecca Charles. (York W.B. 10, p. 27) Secondly, years later there was a chancery case started November 18, 183<sup>2</sup>~~1~~ and concluded October 183~~3~~<sup>2</sup>. It follows:

William K. Charles, Kemp Charles Jr., John H. Charles, Mary Farthing, who was Mary Charles, Margaret H. Hubbard who was Margaret H. Charles, John Brooks and Maria his wife, who was Maria Charles, Lewis S. Charles, who hath survived his wife who was Martha T. Charles, and Lewis and Thomas Charles, infant children of Lewis S. Charles and Martha T. his late wife, their father and next friend, John C. Moreland who hath survived his wife Rebecca S., who was Rebecca S. Charles and who hath also survived Diana T. Moreland, infant child of the said John and Rebecca S. his late wife----- against Henry H. Charles, administrator of Henry Charles, deceased, defendant. (York C. Orders No. 1--1829-1835
p. 206)

John C. Moreland married secondly, Frances _____; their son gave this information when he obtained his marriage license and stated his parentage. He was active in County affairs. <sup>as early as 1809 (D.B. 8 p. 15)</sup> March 17, 1828 he, <sup>being County Constable</sup> with Edward Moreland and William Vale stood as securities for Lewis Moreland to serve as Constable. (D.B. 10, p. 336) He, <sup>acted</sup> with Edward Moreland and Edward W. Moore, ~~acting~~ as commissioners for the sale of land belonging to William Wood, deceased, <sup>and</sup> brought about a sale to R.H. Whitaker. This was January 19, 1829. (York D.B. 11, p. 9)

He was a farmer <sup>also</sup>. A brother-in-law (and <sup>first</sup> cousin) Edmund Tabb Chisman, died in 1807 and in his will he lent "75 acres beginning at the old brick field adjoining Mr. Christopher Stedman's land" to him. Further in the same will one finds "the rest of my mother's dower Negroes in case my wife is not with child I leave to my mother Mary Charles and all the rest of the things I lent to each and every one I give them forever." (York W. & L. No. 23, p. 716)

Since Edmund Tabb Chisman's wife did not have a child by him (although she later had three by another marriage) ~~it appears that~~ John C. Moreland ~~probably~~ heired the 75 acres. The York County Tax records indicate that he paid taxes on 75 acres in 1817. This was bounded on the north by land of Edmund Curtis and John Stedman; west by said Curtis' land; south by Diana Moreland; and east by the estate of Walter Burwell. On Sept 1, 1830 he sold 75 A to Lewis Hogg Jr. (this was later -7 In 1847 he paid taxes on 135 acres bounded by Chapman; Hogg; Bozwell etc. further south and in the Hogg's Grove area,

A deed dated January 15, 1836 show that he sold ten acres to Thomas Hogg, Zacariah Hogg, and others and this is described as "Commencing at a sign post where the road commencing and leading into Crab Neck and continuing down Crab Neck road till it strikes the fence of John C. Moreland from them unto a line to be run to the main stage road leading to Hampton and up the stage road to the sign post where the line first commenced to include in these lines ten acres. Aforesaid land was purchased by said Hogg of John C. Moreland as appears by his deed of records in York County ----forever----. (Deed Book No. 12, p. 119)

In 1860 he was living with his son, John Tabb Moreland and he stated that he was 77 years of age. (1860 Census for York Co,)

He died in 1865. His will written October 19, 1865 was probated December 18, 1865. Portions of the will mention "grandson Robert W. Moreland, the child of my son Robert B. Moreland" be given money; the rest of the estate was left to his son John T. Moreland during his life with "remainder in fee to his five children to wit: Alfonzo Moreland, Solome T. Moreland, Robert B. Moreland, John T. Moreland, and Eunice S. Moreland-----equally divided." The son John T. Moreland was named executor. (York Will Bk. No. 14, p. 48)

Since Edmund Tapp Chisum's wife did not have a child by him (although she later had three by another marriage) it appears that John C. Moreland ~~was~~ helped the 75 acres. The York County tax records indicate that he paid taxes on 75 acres in 1817. This was bounded on the north by land of Edmund Curtis and John Steadman; west by said Curtis' land; ~~and the present York High School is situated on part of that tract.~~ In 1847 he paid taxes on 155 acres bounded by Chapman; Hogg; Boswell etc. A deed dated January 15, 1836 shows that he sold ten acres to Thomas Hogg, Jacobish Hogg, and others and this is described as "Commencing at a sign post where the road commencing and leading into Crab Neck and continuing down Crab Neck road till it strikes the fence of John C. Moreland from then unto a line to be run to the main stage road leading to Hampton and up the stage road to the sign post where the line first commenced to include in these lines ten acres. Aforesaid land was purchased by said Hogg of John C. Moreland as appears by his deed of records in York County ---forever---. (Deed Book No. 12, p. 119)

In 1860 he was living with his son, John Tapp Moreland and he stated that he was 77 years of age. (1860 Census for York Co.) He died in 1865. His will written October 19, 1865 was probated December 18, 1865. Portions of the will mention "expansion Robert W. Moreland, the child of my son Robert B. Moreland" be given money; the rest of the estate was left to his son John T. Moreland during his life with "remainder in fee to his five children to wit: Alfonso Moreland, Solome T. Moreland, Robert B. Moreland, John T. Moreland, and Eunice S. Moreland---equally divided." The son John T. Moreland was named executor. (York Will Bk. No. 14, p. 48)

Known children of John C. Moreland were:

- (1) Diana Tabb Moreland
- (2) John Tabb Moreland
- (3) Robert B. Moreland

(1) Diana Tabb Moreland, daughter of John C. Moreland and his first wife, Rebecca Charles Moreland, was born around 1813 and died in childhood.

(2) John Tabb Moreland, son of John C. Moreland and his second wife Frances Moreland, was born 1815 according to both the 1850 and 1860 Census. He stated his parentage when he obtained a marriage license in York County. He married first, Mary Saunders Wright, daughter of Edward and Mary S. Wright, 1834/35. (The will of Mary S. Wright dated 1842 in Wills and Administrations 1831-58 p. 88 establishes this marriage; also a case between John L. Wright and John T. and Mary S. Moreland, his wife, dated December 16, 1850 found in York Orders No. 13, p. 416 further proves this marriage. The 1850 census indicates that she was 28 years of age, thus having been born 1822. Grafton Christian Church record shows that she was baptized May 23, 1841. She died _____.

He married secondly, Mary E. Chisman, widow of John Chisman and daughter of Thomas and Anne Lindsay, February 10, 1883. She gave her age as fifty years when she married him but the 1860 census indicates she was much older, having been born in 1815 also. She died 1888. (I have two of her Lincoln chairs in my bedroom and we speak of them as "Aunt Mary Chisman's chairs"; two of my great grandmothers were Lindsays. T.H.)

John Tabb Moreland's children were by his first wife and are given:

John Moreland died ca. 1888
After John Moreland died she lived for a while in the home of my great grandmother Alice Lindsay Warden.

Today the wash stand (fully refinished) is in one of my bedrooms and my sister has the Bible table. During the 1940's the side board was literally "given away" (for $5.00) to be replaced with a then modern dining room suite. (What a pity.) T.H.

Concerning this family I have done very little research because I have been mainly interested in Moreland per se. I have copied tombstones and do have several obituaries which I have used.

<sup>4</sup> C. Kemp Bernard Elliott, son of <sup>3</sup>Ann Cary Curtis Elliott and her husband Seaton Elliott, was born 1840 according to 1850 census. He married Catherine A. Nicholson in 1861 and they lived in Norfolk. A deed in York County Clerk's Office shows a transaction between "Kemp Elliott and Catherine his wife of the City of Norfolk and Seaton S. Elliott of the City of Petersburg parties of the first part and Mary C. Elliott, wife of Robert F. Elliott of the County of Elizabeth City parties of other part-----". (York Deed Bk. 19, p.187) This was relative to land that descended from Elizabeth V. Goodwin, deceased and Bettie Elliott deceased.

<sup>4</sup>
Kemp Bernard Elliott died in 1908; his wife died in 1907.
They had a daughter <sup>5</sup>Mary Ann Elliott who married first Savage and secondly, Albert Knapp Clevenger. (From Mrs. Clevenger's

5. Robert Bray Moreland, <sup>1</sup>son of Robert Moreland and his wife Diana Tabb Moreland, was born 1794. He was classified as "orphan of Robert" in 1811. At that time his older brother, <sup>2</sup>Edward Moreland was named his guardian. (Guardian Accounts p. 250) By 1815 no longer was a guardian needed so he was "of age". His will was written April 7, 1836 and probated March 20, 1837. (W.B.12, p. 82)
He left his estate to his brother Edward Moreland; he freed the woman "Rebecca". Brother Edward started the settlement of this estate but he died 1838 so another brother, Lewis Moreland completed this.

He was a constable in "lower precinct" of York County and Leven Smith and Henry Smith were his bondsmen, June 21, 1830.
(York D.B.11, p. 129) He was unmarried.

6. Lewis Moreland, the youngest child of Robert Moreland and his wife Diana Tabb Moreland, likewise was spoken of as "orphan of Robert" in account with John Moreland his guardian in 1811. (Guardian Accounts, p. 254) He was born around 1800. He was married three times, first by May 18, 1834, to Mary Tabb as proven by this court record; but actually by 1821.

August 18, 1834 Upon satisfactory evidence, viz, of the evidence of Thomas Curtis and Samuel Sheild, now adduced that Thomas Chisman was a Surgeon in the States Navy in the Revolution, died between years 1797 and 1800 leaving a widow who is now dead and an only child Lucy who intermarried with Robert Tabb and both now dead leaving three children, William, Mary, and Robert. Mary intermarried with Lewis Moreland and died leaving one child Lewis Moreland Jr. who is an infant and still survives, so that William and Robert Tabb and Lewis Moreland Jr. are the only heirs at law of Dr. Thomas Chisman, deceased----" (York Orders No. 12, p. 325)

He married secondly, Elizabeth D. Curtis. She died 1825. A York record shows that "on the motion of Lewis Moreland who made oath with Edward Moreland and William Powell his securities---certificate was granted for his administration of the estate of his deceased Wife Elizabeth D. Moreland in due form". This was the December 19, 1825 Court session. She was the daughter of Robert and Hannah Curtis.

His third wife was Lucy Mountfort, daughter of Wade Mountfort, and they were married November 12, 1827. (York Marriage Record.) She was born 1804. (1850 census) His children were:

- (1) Lewis Moreland Jr. born ca. 1822 by first wife
- (2) Martha R. Moreland born ca. 1824 by second wife
- (3) Robert Curtis Moreland born 1825 by second wife
- (4) H. Wade Moreland born 1828 by third wife (1850 & 1870 census)
- (5) Lucy B. Moreland born 1832 (1850 census)
- (6) Laura E. Moreland born 1834 (1850 census)

- (7) Lewis<sup>3</sup> Moreland born 1837 (1850 census)
 (8) Mary E.<sup>3</sup> Moreland born 1843 (1850 census)
 (9) Frank<sup>3</sup> Moreland born 1845 (1850 census)
(I have a deed from him)

This family lived in Warwick and some of the children were born there, but they later moved to York County and settled in the Dare area.

<sup>2</sup>
 Lewis Moreland was a Constable in York County and bond was posted August 19, 1830. (Deed Bk. 11, p. 113) He and his wife Lucy signed a deed November 11, 1842. Grafton Christian Church record indicates that he was a deacon October 20, 1844. His death date June 1849 is recorded in that church's register. Lewis<sup>2</sup> Moreland left a will recorded in Will Book 13 (1847-1860) p. 75 but that book is badly burned. One can recognize the name of a son Robert C. Moreland in that document. More about his estate is in the same book on pages 97, 102, 141, and 150.

Lucy Mountfort Moreland died October 1862. (Grafton Christian Church record.)

(1) <sup>3</sup>Lewis Moreland<sup>2</sup>, son of Lewis Moreland and his first wife Mary Tabb Moreland, was born around 1822. He was still living August 18, 1834, but evidently died soon after. A half-brother was born 1837 and was named Lewis also, probably after him. Nothing more is known about him.

(2) <sup>3</sup>Martha R. Moreland<sup>2</sup>, daughter ~~son~~ of Lewis Moreland and his second wife Elizabeth D. Moreland, was born around 1824. Proof of this child is in Ann Curtis Jordon's will dated October 4, 1843 (York W.B.13 p. 41) when she specifically left a legacy to her niece Martha R. Moreland. Nothing more is known about her.

(4) Hickerson Wade M. Moreland , son of Lewis Moreland and his third wife Lucy Mountfort Moreland, was born 1828. (1850 and 1870 census) He married first Mary R. Throckmorton, daughter of Robert Reed Throckmorton and his wife Ann Eliza Nottingham Throckmorton of York County, March 8, 1855. They lived where the present Hampton Roads Sanitation Plant is located at the head of Back Creek in Seaford. He taught school according to the census and he was also a merchant as indicated in his marriage record. Mary Throckmorton Moreland was born December 24, 1834. She died in 1900 according to her tombstone record.

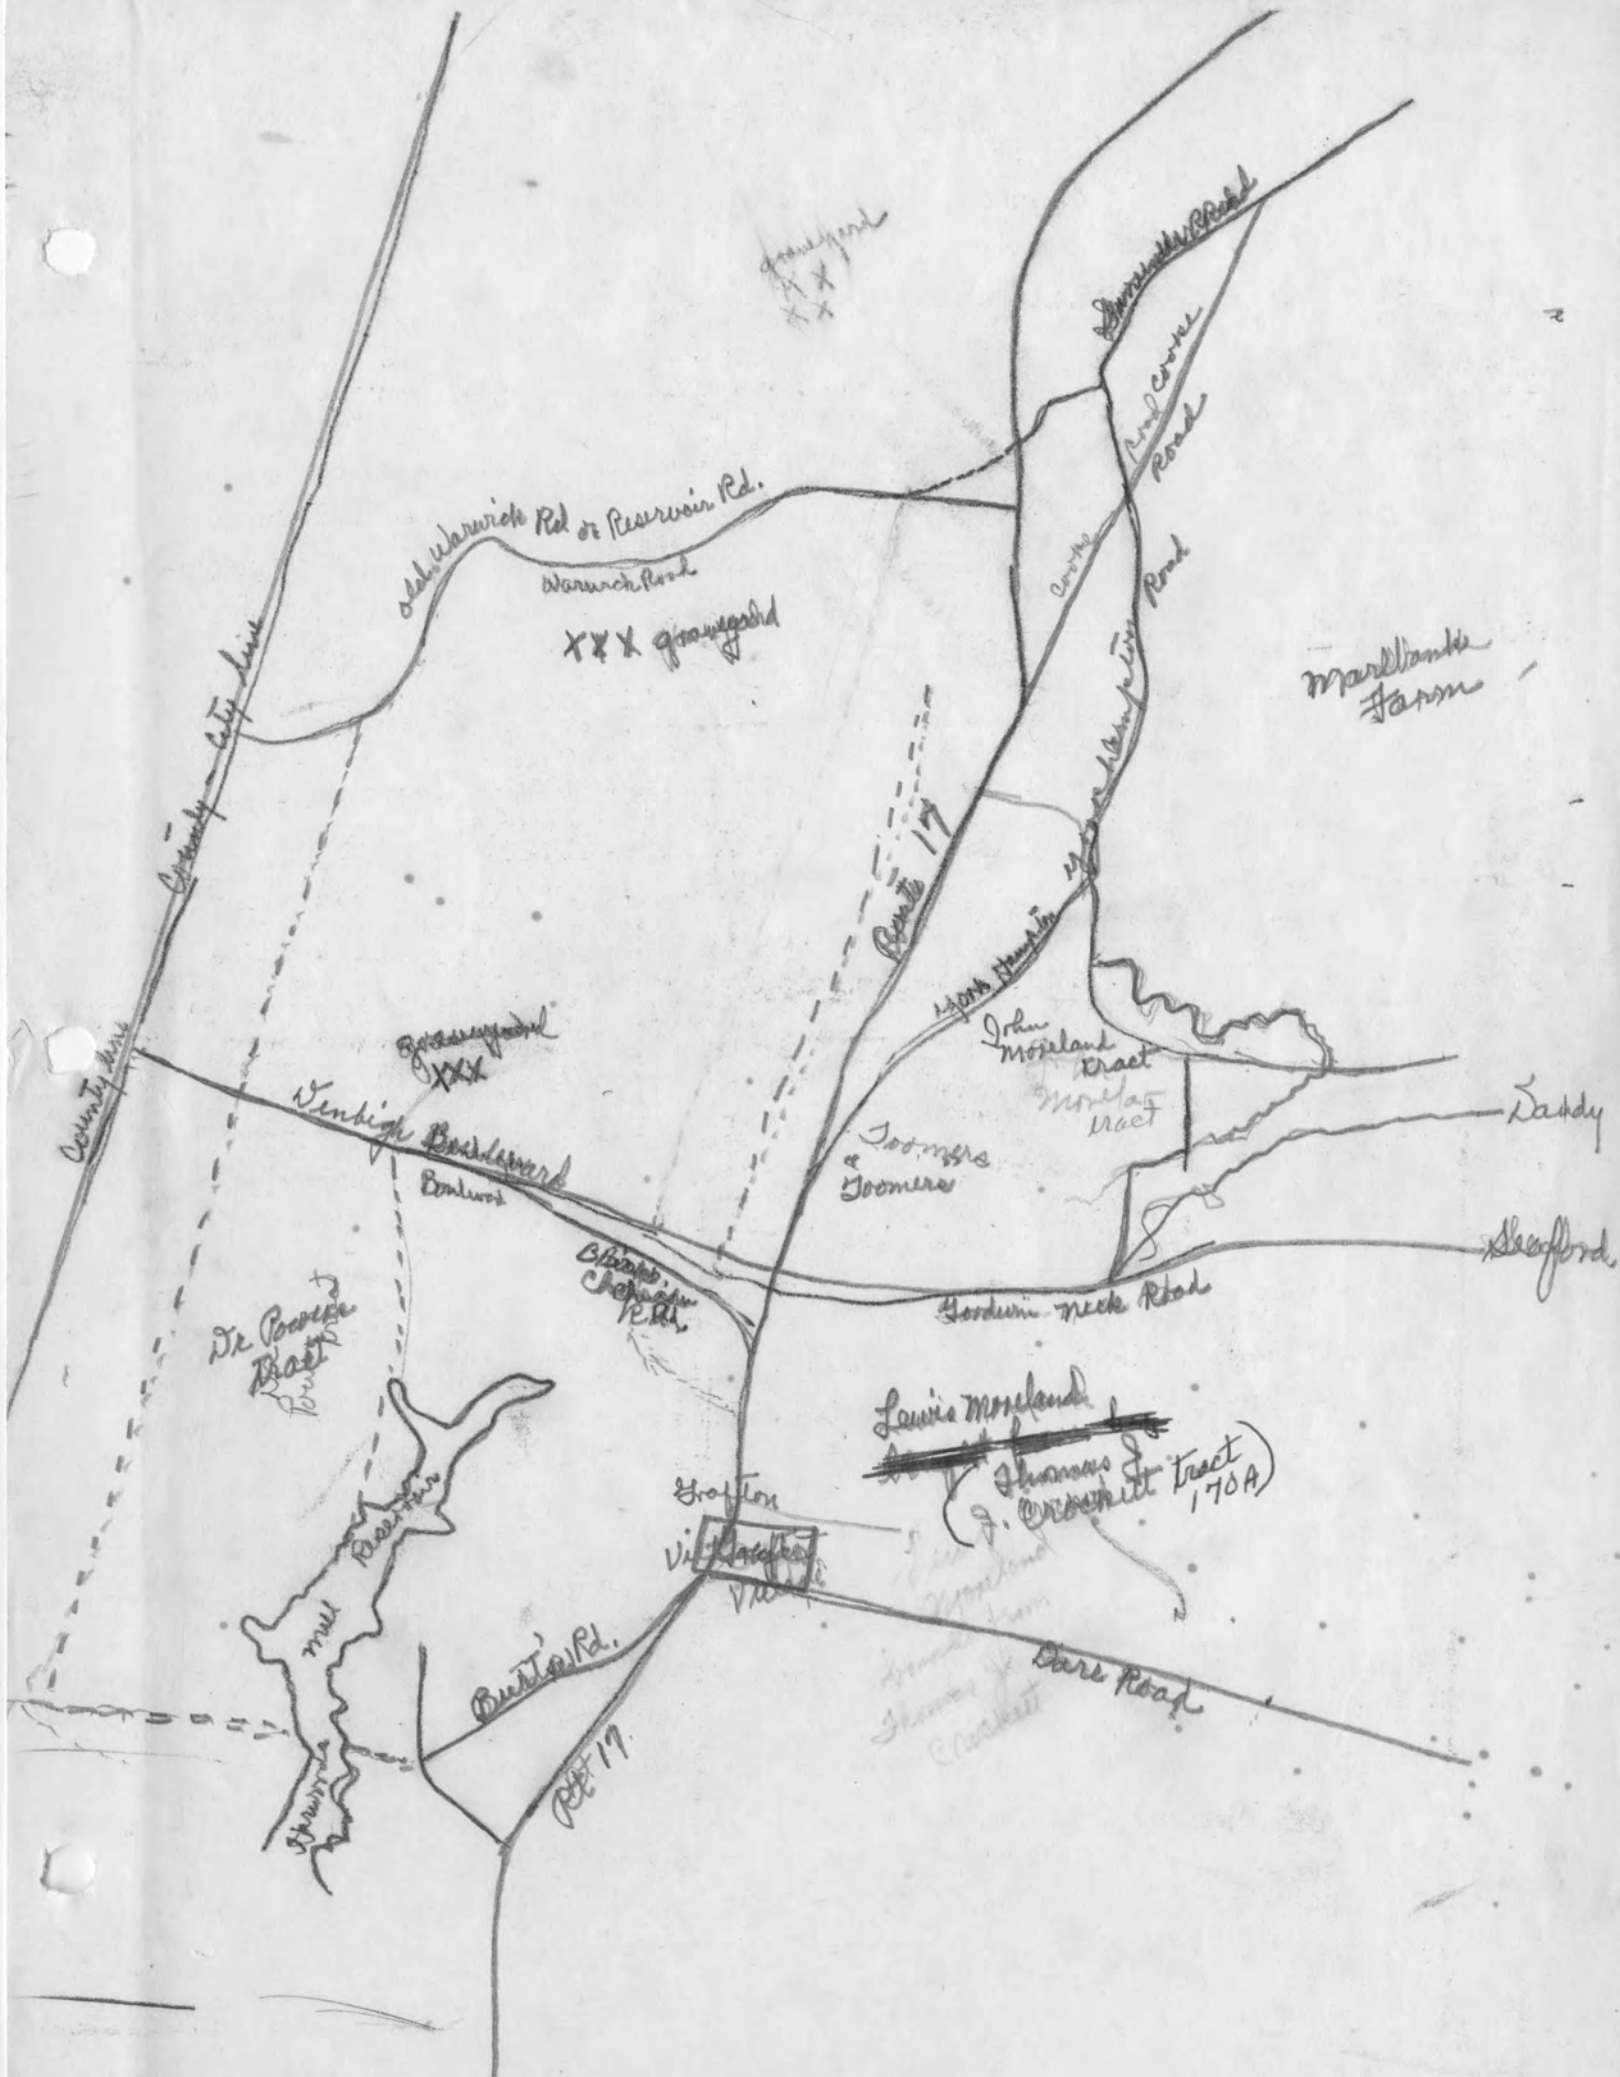

There was a large family graveyard on their property and when the Amoco Refinery bought land adjacent to the Sanitation Plant tract the graves were moved and the bodies reinterred elsewhere.

He married secondly, Laura-----.

He died in 1901. (tombstone)

His children, all by the first wife, were:

On February 6, 1868 a deed was drawn up between him and Thomas J. Crockett for a 170 acre tract.

It might be interesting to note something about the location of this land today. It was in the village of Grafton. My mother, Elizabeth (Bessie) H. Ironmeyer, now aged 92 years, tells me that the original Thomas J. Crockett home was the dwelling that Leroy B. Amory bought years ago. (It later burned.) The present Ernest E. Amory Funeral Home and other Amory family members live on the same tract.

Joseph Crockett, the son of Thomas J. Crockett, had a home and a store farther south on the same main road, the Robert E. White office building sits today on that spot.

Addenda: 1987 July - I might add that a part of that 170 A tract of Thomas J. Crockett included the Wolf Trap Estate development of present day. The present Route 17 split the farm, hence land is now facing both east and west, on the present main highway, namely Rt. 17 or George Washington Highway. Thelma Hausford.
